Executions in France.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Complete records of American soldiers hanged in France after court martial will be made immediately to the War Department, Col. Bethel, judge advocate-general, testified before the committee investigating Senator Watson's charges. He said the names were not given to the press out of consideration to the men's families. He said the records showed that Benjamin King, of Wilmington, N. C., was killed in action or died of wounds and that there was no evidence to show that King was killed by "hard-boiled" Smith's orders, as previous witnesses testified.

Big Fight Over Aiken-Clement Affair Takes On Appearance of a Full- Fledged Political Scrap- With Big Issues Involved.

With the departure yesterday and last night of Major Joseph B. Aiken and Julian Meade, Henry Leigh and John E. Aiken fought to Richmond a warm, a hot, bitter fight for the retention of Judge A. M. Aiken as chief justice of the Supreme Court. When Aiken entered into his last phase, when he was mentioned as being in a position to be made for the State, it was a fight for the future of the State.

The result is a battle for the future of the State, a battle for the future of the State, a battle for the future of the State.

Ran Down Woman With Car; Fined $50

J. O. Gunn, a farmer of Caswell county, was given a trial in the police court this morning on a charge of assault on Mrs. Mollie Patterson, whom he ran into several weeks ago, inflicting such injuries that Mrs. Patterson was confined to the hospital for some time. Gunn was fined $50 and costs on the charge. An appeal was noted by Gunn through his counsel.

It will be remembered that a few days after the accident, which occurred at the corner of James and North Main streets, Gunn was fined $50 and costs on the charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated and for reckless driving. Gunn, it was charged, attempted to pass a street car which was discharging passengers and struck Mrs. Patterson and dragged her several feet under the machine. He then ran on to a telegraph pole, knocking it down, and only stopped when he struck a larger pole. The testimony of eye-witnesses this morning was against Gunn and the evidence justified conviction. Gunn denies being drunk and claims that the brakes on his car were defective and that he could not stop the machine.

Woman Democrat Slated to Contest Seat In Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Washington is beginning to look toward the prospect of a Democratic congresswoman. Reports from West Virginia indicate that Mrs. Izetta Jewel Brown was delivered the second round speech for John W. Davis at the Democratic convention in San Francisco will make the race this fall against George M. Bowers, the present incumbent. Mrs. Brown was formerly an actress. Her speech made a big hit at the convention.

Mrs. Brown's husband, W. G. Brown, represented the second West Virginia district in Congress and died in 1914. Before him his father was a West Virginia congressman.

Mrs. Brown has a good chance of restoring the office to the family. Mrs. Brown has been active in suffrage work. While she has not announced her candidacy her friends are boosting it.

Reports from Washington that Mrs. Alice Robertson has incurred the displeasure of her local Republican committee through the Muskogee, Okla., post office appointment which went to Mrs. Renah H. Curran.

Mrs. Curran was slated for the place because of her "Republican" record. She had no business experience and local Republicans put forward a candidate.

A civil service man in the post office stood first, the local candidate second, and Mrs. Curran, whose service is vice-chairman of the Republican state committee, was accepted as qualification, was third.

Blankenship Freed On $10,000 Bond Following Hearing

Accused Pool Room Owner
Gives for First Time His
Version of Killing of Giles
Walker, Claiming Self-Defense.

William H. Blankenship, charged with the murder of Giles Walker, was given a preliminary hearing this morning in the mayor's court, and the case was sent to the grand jury to come up at the March term of the corporation court. Immediately after the hearing Blankenship was bonded under the sum of $10,000 for his appearance on that date. T. B. and G. B. Blankenship, brothers of the accused, went to court.

The testimony given this morning was practically the same as that given at the coroner's inquest which was held yesterday. Coroner J. E. Taylor and Sam Morton were the State witnesses to testify this morning. Blankenship, however, related briefly what occurred in his rooms on lower Main street on the day of the killing. Before Judge D. Price Withers in the clerk's office of the corporation court before the bond could be arranged Blankenship claims that he acted in what he believed to be self-defense. He told of the hearing and taking a drink occasionally, and of the game of poker. He testified that a quarrel first developed between Sam Morton and Walker but Morton did not seem to become offended at the abusive remarks by Walker. Morton had made two loans of $5 each to Blankenship, which Walker, he said, objected to. The result was that Morton and Blankenship started the game. The accused man said that he and Walker continued to play, however, and Walker soon brought forth a claim that he (Blankenship) owed him $5. Blankenship said that he told Walker that he did not owe the debt which was alleged to have incurred in the game. An argument ensued in which Blankenship alleges Walker cursed him, whereupon he ordered him to leave. Walker then said he was going to have risen from his chair and throw his hand to his hip pocket as if to withdraw a pistol and Blankenship said he reached under a pillow on his bed and got the own revolver and fired point blank. He says that

Aided By Wilson, Democrats Aim to Regain Congress

Will Charge G. O. P. Failure and Reactionism in Fall
Drive — Issue Scathing Statement.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Democratic leaders here are very much encouraged over reports from back home and will make a determined drive to win the Congress in November.

In this effort, they will have the personal assistance of former President Woodrow Wilson. It was reported on Tuesday that Mr. Wilson will go to the city, stop over on his way to the south, but he will advise the leaders of the Republican party to make good the promise to the people that he made the overthrow of the Democrats in 1918 and 1920.

Friends of the ex-president here are only following every development in a national public affairs now and will be ready to give aid and support to his party in the fall.

Within the last sixty days Democratic workers have become very aggressive. They believe that the Republican party is "buy from Bass."

Uses Knife To Boost Argument

Will Carver, colored, tried to undertake what his name implied a few days ago and proceed to carve on the body of Anderson James, whom he alleged owed him $2.50. A case was tried in court this morning and after the evidence was heard, the charges were dismissed, as one seemed to be as much responsible as the other.

It was alleged that a game of cards was in progress at Will Carver's place. Anderson James was playing with another negro. Carver was looking on. James held two sevens, and Carver slyly pushed another card of the same suit under the table and making James what would have been a winning hand. James refused to take part in the scheme, but as luck would have it, he won the "pot." Immediately after the game Carver demanded $2.50 as his portion of the winnings, and James refused to pay it and a fight developed. The two fought their way into the street and it was alleged, Carver drew out a long knife and began to slash away at James who was lying with his back on the ground having slipped up in the mud. A coat covered with mud was evidence that the owner had been on his back in a mud hole. James received a slight cut on the arm. Carver denied that he had a knife, but charges that James had the knife and he was trying to take it away from him.

Other cases disposed of this morning were:

Lawrence Bey, colored, fined $19.95 for beating his wife.

Elied Coates, fined $11.50 for not having proper lights on his car.

Council Meeting May Be Put Off

Unless the monthly meeting of the council is held on Friday afternoon it is doubtful if it will be held on that day owing to the fact that on that night the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet will be held at the Hamilton Hall. It is probable that the parliamentary amenities of the occasion will be met through the failure of a quorum, in which event the session will be held during the coming week.

The Public Work committee met yesterday evening and discussed the road work to be undertaken during the coming year. The committee showed no disposition to change the list of streets already agreed upon. The committee felt that it had no right to change the streets it had proposed to improve after the people of the community had voted for the bond issue with the understanding that they would be smooth-paved. Here and there it was decided to recommend full-width paving of some streets instead of half width. The committee is anxious to have the program completed, so that the time may be lost in re-starting street work with the advent of Spring.

The Finance committee will probably meet on Thursday. This promises to be an important meeting, for it is proposed to bring up the question of additional equipment for the city electric power house and for the city pump houses. The anticipated expenditure at the power house to provide power generating machinery necessary to take care of the city's rapid increased use of electricity, will be about $100,000 and how to finance the improvement is what will be chiefly discussed. As it will take about eight months to have the turbine built and the additional boilers installed, prompt action on this question is anticipated, since it is declared that the city cannot go through another winter without materially increasing its productive machinery.

Wong was taken to the yamen of the magistrate, who also was impressed so much so that the official not only granted the culprit a full pardon, but he also gave Wong a letter of introduction to the hospital of the mission hospital. SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 9.—Huge icicles stopped a transcontinental train in a Cascade mountain tunnel for several hours until the obstructions were cut away.

Water poured from some mysterious source poured into the tunnel through the roof and was formed into icicles three feet in diameter blocking the tracks.

The train moving at a small pace was brought to a stop within a few feet of the blockage and delayed for some time. The icicles were cut away and the train was able to proceed.

Bank Fight Begins In District Court

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 9.—Hearing of testimony in the legal fight over par clearance of checks by the American Bank and Trust Company and other "country banks" against the Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank, began today before Judge Beverly D. Evans.

Many officers of banks in Georgia towns testified that without the exchange fees from out-of-town checks their institutions would lose money. The plaintiff banks also charged that the Federal Reserve Bank officials threatened to withhold checks on smaller banks which collected exchange and present them in such numbers as to embarrass the banks.

Judge Evans, who presided after disqualification of the presiding judge of this district, ruled at the first hearing to the effect that such action could not legally be prevented but the U. S. Circuit Court of appeals held that the act of presenting checks for payment may be performed in such ways as to render it subject to legal ruling.

The case is expected to take up the greater part of the week.

EMPLOYEES BUY RAILROAD

W. G. ABER, (LEFT) AND LEO JAYCOX, TWO RAILWAY EMPLOYEES WHO'VE LEASED A MONEY-LOSING SPUR LINE FROM THE ERIE RAILWAY AND SAY THEY'LL MAKE IT PAY.

BUFFALO, Jan. 10.—FOR SALE: Railway conductor's cap, uniform and ticket punch. Also station agent's complete outfit, including canvas gloves for handling baggage. All as good as new. Cheap. Apply Conductor Leon Jaycox and Station Agent W. G. Abner, Erie railroad.

WANTED: Two silk hats, two frock coats, two vests with large pockets for cigars, two mahogany desks. Apply Leon Jaycox and W. G. Abner, joint presidents and owners, Hammondsport and Bath railroad.

These two want ads haven't appeared in any paper yet but they set forth the needs of Conductor Jaycox and Station Agent Abner.

For overnight the two railway employees have become sole owners, officials, directors and managers of a railway.

It's only nine miles long, but it's a real honest-to-goodness railway with stations and freighthouses and tracks and engines and everything.

It used to be a profitable branch of the Erie. That was when Bath and Hammondsport were champagne-producing centers.

But with the coming of Volstead traffic slumped. Freight ran only once a day. Passenger trains thrice weekly.

Then the Erie decided to abandon the line.

But up stepped Jaycox and Abner. "We'll lease it," they said. "We know local conditions and we can make it pay."

"It's got EFA cmf cmfwp cmfwp c 'It's a go!" said the Erie chiefs.

So Jaycox and Abner climbed into the saddle.

They've put on a daily passenger train. And they say they're going to make their fortunes.

Will Study Weather At the North Pole

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Within four years Captain R. Amundsen, Arctic adventurer and discoverer of the South Pole, expects to return to civilization from the North Pole in possession of the knowledge and power that will enable scientists to predict weather conditions for a year or more in advance.

Captain Amundsen, who arrived here tonight from Seattle, Washington, is enroute to Washington, D. C., where he will discuss with directors of the Carnegie Institute details of his renewed attempt to drift across the top of the world in his ice-bound craft.

With him he will take instruments for a super-scientific study of the upper air reaches of polar regions. He says he will attempt to work out the theory of Professor Vilhelm Bjerknes of the University of Christiania, Norway, that the weather conditions at the North Pole govern the weather of the remainder of the earth's surface.

Amundsen expects to reach the farthest north weather "temperaments" will be able to determine for a year or more in advance a more or less exact chart of weather conditions in the remainder of the world. If this is achieved, he said, it will be an inestimable boon to the world's crop growers.

Captain Amundsen will make all his scientific reports to the Carnegie Institute. His vessel, the Maud, is now being provisioned in Seattle for a seven year voyage, although the Norse explorer believes he will complete his unique expedition in less than four years. There will be nine men in his party, including Captain Oscar Wisping, who was one of his crew on the trip to the South Pole. The Maud will sail next June.

The explorer brought to New York two adopted daughters, knowledge of the Tsuk Tsi tribe of Siberia. They are the first of their people to visit the United States. Cakonia, five years old is a full blood Tsuk Tsi but the other, Camila Carpendale, 11, is the daughter of a Russian fur trader.

Soviet Russia To Attend Parley

CANNES, Jan. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—Soviet Russia has accepted the invitation to attend the coming economic conference at Genoa. A telegram from Foreign Minister Chicherin announcing the Soviet acceptance was received here this evening.

The sub-committee which will meet tomorrow to frame the text of the invitations for the gathering at Genoa was confronted tonight by the fine diplomatic question of whether it should send out an invitation to a country which already has signified its intention to be present.

Simultaneously with the making public of Russia's intention to have representatives at Genoa, it became known that the German delegation, headed by Dr. Walter Rathenau, will arrive in Cannes Wednesday to discuss the question of reparations with the supreme council.

The reparations experts and the committee dealing with the proposed International Financial Corporation today outlined their program, which comprises a vast effort for European reconstruction. The reparations experts decided that Germany should be asked to pay 720,000,000 gold marks in 1922, and at least an equal sum annually afterward. Such payments it is considered will be sufficient to meet the interest on a series of German bonds of twenty billion gold marks, which thus will become negotiable.

The economic commission decided with a capital of £2,000,000 with its seat in London and with a board upon an international corporation of directors nominated by affiliated companies in each interested country. These countries, including the United States, will organize corporations for promotion only, with a combined capital equivalent to £20,000,000. These corporations will serve as mediums for credit transactions and facilitating the activities of private enterprises in all countries where the business field now is obstructed by lack of credits and disorganized finances.

This plan presupposes the organization of affiliated companies in Germany, as well as in the United States. There remains to be settled the question what shall be the French share in the German reparations payments. M. Briand, the French premier, today asked the supreme council to give him time to consult with the finance commission of the French chamber of deputies, and probably will give his final answer tomorrow.

President Millerand, also, probably will be expected before the French finally accepted the new scheme, only a few details of which have been given out.

ONLY GERMANY ABLE TO PAY SAYS DEINBURG.

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—Writing for the Tagblatt today regarding the deliberations of the allies at Cannes on the reparations questions, Dr. Deinburg declares none of the entente nations would be able to pay Germany's debt, and that a brief postponement would not solve the problem, which will be settled only when the time is sufficiently extended to allow Germany actually to raise the necessary cash without the use of artificial means.

"Not one of the victorious nations could stand up under Germany's burden," he said.

ANTI-BOLSHEVIST LEADERS EXPRESS OPPOSITION

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—By the Associated Press.—Two Russian anti-bolshevist leaders now in this country as representatives of the executive committee of the all-Russian constituent assembly tonight issued a statement terming the invitation extended to Russia to attend the economic conference at Genoa as "nothing but an agreement with the tyrant now ruling Russia for the benefit of foreign investors, at the expense of the Russian people."

Two anti-bolshevist leaders

BODDY CAPTURED ADMITS KILLING TWO DETECTIVES

Taken By Member of Own Race, Scott, Negro Magistrate.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Luther Boddy, a negro, captured here today by a magistrate of his own race, a patrolman and a constable after he had led the police of three states a chase from New York across New Jersey and into Pennsylvania, later signed a statement, local authorities said, confessing he had fired the shots that killed two New York detectives. Boddy was held for extradition to New York.

He was taken prisoner by Amos Scott, a negro magistrate, acting on information received from a negro lawyerman, who had been told by a prisonier that a man answering the description of the fugitive was asleep in a lodging house on Broadman street.

Accompanied by the only patrolman available at a nearby police station, and a constable, Scott entered the house, covered Boddy with a pistol he had bought at a pawn shop on the way there, disarmed and took the fugitive a prisoner. Boddy was forced to walk in his bare feet to the police station through snow, as Scott explained that they wished to take no chances with their prisoner.

A statement which the local authorities said the prisoner signed, follows in part:

"I had been on parole in New York and feeling the police would annoy me by picking me up on the street even though my parole had expired last week, I thought I would go to my parole officers and tell them I was going to try to get work."

While walking along the streets within a few feet of a station house I was approached by two detectives. They grabbed me and started to question me in regard to the murder of a negro policeman. I had nothing to do with the murder, but I knew the two detectives planned to take me to the station house and put me through the third degree.

"I was afraid they would beat me an effort to force a confession or obtain information, and I had visions of being taken to a hospital. I don't know what made me do it, but I flashed in my mind to shoot and kill them. I drew a revolver and shot both men and ran. I threw my revolver in an ash can as I ran and saw my way to Newark."

Don't spoil our only new year. Wishes of great men old remind them their lot is not sublime.

WHO KILLED MIRIAM VANE?

She was an artful—beautiful—but mocking and mysterious. Her portraits were called caricatures because of their subtle cruelty. One night a shot was heard. A minute later the beautiful artist was found dead in her Greenwich Village studio. Before her was an unfinished portrait.

Erie Stock Drops To New Low Record

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Liquidation of Erie Railroad shares, which fell to lowest prices in more than a year, was one of the disturbing features of today's stock market session. Erie common declined to 7, against the previous low of 9 1/2; the first preferred, fell to 1 1/4 or three points under its previous minimum, and the second preferred at 7 1/4 showed a loss of 2 1/4 from its previous low record.

All three issues showed a feeble rally, showing net losses of 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 points. Sales of Erie common and first and second preferred approximately 45,000 shares, considerably more than the turnover of any other issue in the railway division.

Another reaction in Chicago and Northwestern, which dropped almost two points to 23, its lowest price in 25 years, added to the feeling of uneasiness in trading circles, although the stock later made up half its loss.

Bankers identified with the Erie railroad offered no explanation for the weakness of its securities. On the exchange, rumor associated much of the selling with the recent retirement from the board of a prominent financier.

An encouraging feature of the monetary situation, but one which exercised no perceptible influence upon the stock market, was the fact that the call money rate had not risen to the lowest quotation since November, 1918.

Efforts to advance this development as a bullish factor were offset by the argument that money was cheap because of the very low recovery from depressed conditions in commercial and industrial lines.

GENERAL OUTLOOK FOR BUSINESS IN STATE IS GOOD

Crudal Improvement Noted in Reports from Labor Dept.

BUILDING REVIVAL

By GEORGE H. MANNING.
(Washington Correspondent of The Danville Register.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The general industrial outlook for Virginia is promising and the consensus of reports to the United States labor department show a distinct gradual improvement.

While the employment situation throughout the State showed no actual improvement during December and in fact there was a reduction in the number employed, the reports from the industrial centers were more encouraging and optimistic as to the improvement that is expected to commence within thirty days and continue on into spring, the report of the United States employment service for December, issued today, shows.

A general revival of building has been the greatest factor in helping the employment situation. The encouraging feature of the report is that slight but continuous increase in employment in the basic or non-seasonal industries like textiles, iron and steel and other metals, lumber, leather and paper.

Some of the increased unemployment was attributed to temporary closing down of many plants for the annual stock taking. The industries showing reduced employment were food and kindred products, liquors and beverages, chemicals and allied products, stone, clay and glass products, tobacco manufactures, vehicles and related repair shops.

The employment situation all over the country is very much the same as in Virginia. Out of reports on employment from the 65 large industrial centers 28 showed small employment increases below 6 per cent and 36 reported employment decreases ranging from 47 per cent downward.

Richmond reports employment conditions better than any time within the past year. Norfolk shows substantially increased employment in textiles and lumber. The unemployment in Roanoke is not material except in the railroad shops. Petersburg conditions remain the same as for the past few months.

Referring to the employment situation in Virginia in general and in the case of the State the report of the United States employment service reads:

General—Thirty-seven textile mills employing on December 15th, 11,794 show a net increase for the month of 214. Employment conditions throughout the State with the exception of coal mining, continue to show little improvement. Farm labor continues to be abundant to supply the limited needs of farmers at this season.

Richmond—Seventy-seven industrial concerns employing less than 100 each report 7,659 working on December 15th compared with 6,765 on November 15th, an increase of 294. Employment conditions are perhaps better than at any time within the past year. Steel and iron works, moulders and carpenters not fully employed are unskilled workers of whom great many are non-residents. Brick masons, plasterers, paper hangers, plumbers, steam fitters, etc., practically all at work. Local industries generally anticipate improvement beginning in January.

NORFOLK—Norfolk industrial concerns in Norfolk report 3,264 employed on December 15th, compared with 3,053 on November 15th, an increase of 211, chiefly in textile and lumber industries. Building trades continue active. Unemployment continues general among skilled and unskilled outside of building trades laborers, clerical help, seamen, water front workers and navy yard employees.

ROANOKE—Twenty-six industrial concerns in Roanoke report 5,532 employed on December 15th, compared with 5,823 on November 15th, a decrease of 291, mostly among railroad shop men. Iron and steel textiles, leather and its finished products and paper and printing show slight increase in number of employees. Other industries show but slight decrease from normal employment. Outside of shop workers, the unemployment situation at Roanoke is not serious.

PETERSBURG—Industries continue to work at about 75 per cent of normal with corresponding unemployment. Unemployment remains practically the same and is general in all trades and common labor. Consensus of opinion is that the business outlook is uncertain and not specially encouraging.

ORDERS GIVEN TO RETURN LIQUOR LADEN SCHOONER

Messenger of Peace Must Be Returned to Owners At Once.

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 9.—Orders to return the British schooner Messenger of Peace to her owners were sent today to United States District Attorney Tucker at Raleigh, N. C., by the Department of justice.

At the same time, officials said Mr. Tucker was requested to bring such protest as he could to the crew of the schooner, located on the national prohibition act as evidence gathered by the federal authorities would warrant.

The Messenger of Peace was taken into custody last week by the coast guard when she was found carrying a cargo of liquor aboard and a landing party of the coast guard was detained at Wilmington, N. C. Return of the vessel to her owners of officials explained is necessary under international law and in view of her foreign registry and infractions of American law. She will be rendered incapable of prosecution.

Disposition of the case apparently has caused a controversy among the federal authorities in North Carolina officials declared. A telegram was received today by the justice department from Federal Prohibition Director Kohloss of North Carolina, which is said to read: Attorney General Daugherty to cooperate with Commissioner Haynes and reduce the customs service to turn the Messenger of Peace over to the prohibition authorities, claiming that the collector of customs at Wilmington was retaining custody of the ship.

Beyond a report that the ship was being held and that her papers apparently were in proper shape, no word has been received from the collector by the customs service but a detailed account of the seizure of the vessel was received by the department from District Attorney Tucker.

Mr. Kohloss, officials said, has been advised that the Messenger of Peace must be turned back to her owners under the terms of the federal act and that the schooner will be released.
